Kit Kemp's new collection for Andrew Martin is inspired by fifteenth- and sixteenth-century tapestries and Native American art. Seen here are two 'Homer' chairs upholstered in 'Hedgerow' linen-mix in cerise, which costs £80 a metre. Also pictured is 'Wychwood' wallpaper in basil green, £60 for a 10-metre roll. 020-7225 5100; andrewmartin.co.uk

Designer insight MARIAN BOSWALL Landscape Architects

Marian Boswall, landscape architect and member of The List, discusses her latest projects and future plans with Charlotte Richmond

I loved working on this beautiful contemporary garden in Kent. The clients were both totally engaged in the design and they embraced every suggestion, making the garden their own. Our design seeks to evoke the spirits of farmland, woodland and water, reflecting the shapes of the Wealden countryside in the structure of the garden.

'We also have some wonderful projects both on the board and in development. We are master planning some historic country estates and working with architects on gardens for new houses. Other projects include a landform and sculpture beside the A3 for the Watts Gallery in Surrey; a healing garden in a walled garden; a new arts foundation in Rye created from disused warehouses; and a yoga retreat in a forest. marianboswall.com
